LABOR DAY The Datum of So the Netw Time

Messages from the American Federationist.

A HIGHER PURPOSE. Frank P. Sargent;

Commissioner of Immigration. That organized labor has succeeded in benefiting its members cannot be denied, especially where it has been inspired by lofty principles of right and justice. To organize simply to be a power, regardless of a higher purpose, is not the true spirit which should animate those directly associated with the movement.

THE BEATEN ROAD. Frank K. Foster.

Chairman Legislative Committee A. F. L. The trade union movement has become organic. The American federation of labor represents a tribunal of judgment supreme, saving that the right of appeal to the people is always reserved. Those in search of short cuts to the millenium will always cavil at beaten roads, but their short cuts have always hitherto ran up a tree or into a swamp.

LABOR'S CHIEFTAIN. C. L. Baine,

General Sec-Treas Boot and Shoe Workers' Union.

No Labor day reference to the progress of the American labor movement is complete which does not recognize the invaluable services of its president, whose fearless leadership, unimpeachable and rugged integrity, mark every step of its progress for the past 20 years, and whose life has been dedicated to righting a of the CONCERT PROGRAM.

The Globe's annual tribute to the wage-workers of New England, particu-larly those of Boston and vicinity, will be paid as usual today, in the form of a first-class band concert on the Common, to which all the world is cordially invited. 'The concert will be given by the Bo ton band, under the leadership of Max Zach, of whom it is only necessary to recall that for years he has not only been one of the leading artists of the Boston symphony orchestra, but also conductor at the famous "Pop" concerts in Symphony hall.

The concert will last from 3 to 5 p m, and the program is one that cannot fail to be attractive to practically every grade of musical taste, for the selections chosen are too tuneful to be listened to with indifference by any aud-tor that has any appreciation of melody. It will be well for the reader of this article to cut out the following program, for it may come in handy at the concert: March, King LaborBoroff

THE GREATEST FORCE. Prof John R. Commons,

Educator, Economist. The union is the greatest of existing forces is what is called Americanization. It breaks down the barriers of race, nationality, language and religion; teaches self-government and obedience to elected leaders; sets up the goal of an American standard of living. Neither the church nor the schools, nor politics, nor employers, can do this work.

THE CRISIS AT HAND. John Roach,

General Sec-Treas Amalgamated Leather Workers.

On Labor day it is meet that every man who toils should scorn neutrality. The crisis is at hand. You are either for or against. You cannot remain passive, you must be with organized labor or opposed to it; the question of the ages frowns sphinxlike on humanity and we are to play a most important part in its solution.

of the Hebrew painters' union regarding the Hub theatre. Electrical work-ers' union 103 reported that the little dispute with two North and West End storekeepers was settled.

Sec Abrahams was directed to request every one of the 150 affiliated locals to do everything in their power to assist the striking Somerville tube workers. The delegates were also directed to urge every member to do everything possible for the cause of the bakers' label, and to also see that they use only union label bread.

New delegations were admitted from theatrical stage employes' union 11, woodworkers' 24 and sheet metal workers' 17.

Thomas J. Minihan, who commands the C. L. U. delegates in today's parade, notified all to report not later than $:30 this morning at C. L. U. headquarters, as the delegates will leave at $:45 for the place of formation, escorting Chief Marshal McCarthy and Marshal Sweet.
